

Acing the Behavioral Interview

Wednesday, September 26, 2012
 4 New York Plaza, 3rd Floor

11:00 AM – 1:00 PM Eastern Daylight Time

Join us to plan and prepare for the likelihood that you will encounter behavioral interview questions, and refine your interview presentation!

Behavioral Interviewing is based on the premise that the most accurate predictor of future performance is past performance, and as such is a technique which is used by many employers.

This participatory workshop will offer you an opportunity to develop and practice your responses to questions that seek to validate your strengths and experience in key areas such as:

- Communication and Interpersonal Skills
- Decision-Making and Problem Solving
- Leadership, Teamwork and Motivation
- Organization and Planning

We will provide you with a framework that will enable you to more concisely and confidently articulate your accomplishment stories.

Facilitators

Steven Davis has coached and placed thousands of IT professionals in diverse positions through his roles as Managing Director of the IT Practice in global staffing firms and as a Counselor with Career Services. He has staffed placement organizations and has been entrusted with many exclusive job search agreements from hiring managers, as a result of his success in matching candidates with opportunities of best fit.

Hemda Mizrahi developed IT Career Pathways, and has facilitated programs and provided individual counseling to IT professionals at Career Services since 2000. She has collaborated with employment professionals and clients in designing strategies and resources that have supported countless successful landings and transitions both within and out of IT.
